Dated: Aug 12, 2008

Doctor Greens, developer of a proprietary line of organic and wholesome supplements, vitamins and greens releases Circulatory Support, for people with blood pressure concerns.

Doctor Greens announces the successful release of its new natural based Circulatory Support formula for those with Blood Pressure Concerns who are looking for healthy natural alternatives.* Many Americans are looking for ways to naturally resolve their blood pressure concerns without having to resort to non-natural pharmaceutical based means. Doctor Greens now offers a natural based Circulatory Support formula as a more natural alternative.* This is especially important for those looking to maintain and or improve Healthy Blood Flow Support with a healthy diet and lifestyle and through naturally based effective circulatory dissolution enzymes, herbs and antioxidants. These natural based ingredients in Circulatory Support help support increased and enhanced Energy and Healthy Blood Vessel support.*

Doctor Greens is the U.S. company that designs and formulates world class Organic and Wholesome Greens products and advanced natural healthy nutraceuticals and can be found at <http://www.doctorgreens.com> * It's many other advanced natural base circulatory enhancing multi-vitamins and greens products along with its CoQ10 Supreme (Ubiquinol) products may also be purchased either individually or as unique Circulatory Health support multi-product packages.*

Doctor Greens new Circulatory Support product is believed to be the first in the world to offer 10 scientifically supported individual circulatory ingredients in efficacious amounts contained All In One Product.* The natural advantage for the better health circulatory seeking individual is that for the first time these types of science supported and natural based ingredients can be found in one convenient and cost effective product.*

“A World’s First” partial list of the Proprietary Natural Based Formula ingredients in Circulatory Support are: Nattokinase: a natural dissolution enzyme from fermented soy shown in Japanese studies to indicate positive natural dissolution of impediments within the bloodstream that may positively affect healthy blood flow.* Bromelain: natural digestive enzyme from pineapples that when taken in-between meals indicates dissolution aid for positive healthy blood flow support;* L-Carnitine, an amino acid that helps support the breakdown of fats and increases energy in the mitochondria of blood vessel cells including healthy heart cells;* Organic Pomegranate extract: a beneficial natural ingredient aid for healthy blood flow and overall good health support;* Green Tea, Cayenne, Hawthorn Berry, Grape seed, Resveratrol and Vitamin D3 in which recent studies all indicate many positive circulatory health support benefits.*

With the introduction of the new Circulatory Support product(s), Doctor Greens always first suggests that for a healthy Circulatory system that a healthy diet and lifestyle be followed, including working with your doctor as being of primary importance for good Circulatory System Health.* Find more information at <http://www.doctorgreens.com>.
